Police Constables J Fiddes 0372 and J Woo 0991 are based at Nigg Police Station/Cove Police Office, Library Building, Loirston Avenue.

Grampian Police is asking members of the community to help us tackle crime in your local Cove area.

We are pleased to report that there has been a reduction in youth annoyance-type calls to the Cove area during the month of March, and we would like to obtain feedback on the current issues affecting the local community at present.

Grampian Police are planning to hold a drop-in type Surgery at the local Cove Police Office at Loirston Avenue later this year. We are keen to have your feedback on this idea in advance, and your suggestions on how this surgery would benefit the Cove Community would be greatly appreciated.

Local Cove officer, Constable Jake Woo said, "It is anticipated that the Surgery would be an informal event, allowing local residents and businesses the opportunity to speack face to face with a Police officer. This would enable the chance to report ongoing issues or problems you may be experiencing, ask for advice, or just have a chat about anything that you may be unsure or concerned about in your local area". He added, "It is hoped that the Surgery would offer a convenient method of information sharing with the Police, and any information provided can be treated anonymously if you wish. This would allow the Police to tackle some of the present issues affecting Cove, and direct resources suitably to support the needs of the Cove community".

Please forward your thoughts on this Surgery to Constable Jake Woo using the contact details above.

In the meantime, Constables Jake Woo and John Fiddes will continue to patrol the Cove area and encourage local residents and businesses to engage with them.
