

Nether Loirston Growers

The Allotments are buzzing with activity as Allotmentees prepare the ground for this year's planting. Potatoes have been chitted and decisions are being made on when's just the right time to put them into the ground! The weather so far has been relatively kind and we growers are living in hope that this Spring will be just right!

We have had a visit from Jim McColl who is to feature our Allotments in the Beechgrove Garden programme on BBC later in the year. We are looking forward to this with some degree of excitement.

We have some growing space available to local residents. Please get in touch if you would like to join us.
