HAVE A FIRE FREE SUMMER

Whether enjoying a summer barbecue at home, or exploring some of Scotland's stunning scenery, Scottish Fire and Rescue Service (SFRS) would ask the public to Join Scotland's Fight Against Fire. SFRS has produced a new 'Summer Safety' leaflet which also provides some potentially life-saving tips about fire safety in caravans, camp sites and the countryside. Whatever you are doing this summer, take a few minutes to visit the SFRS website and make sure that you can enjoy a fire free summer.

On average there are almost 100 caravan fires in Scotland every year.

A fire in a caravan or mobile home can spread much more quickly than it would in a house or flat. Take extra care and think about fire safety when you are away from home. Make sure you have working smoke alarms in your caravan. If you have a cooking area, consider fitting a heat alarm.

Whether you are camping at a festival or a holiday camp site, the 'Summer Safety' leaflet provides an essential guide to avoiding fire.

Tents can be 'gone in 60 seconds'. Make sure you read the tips regarding campfires, and the potentially lethal hazards that candles and smoking present."

With the World Cup still in mind, SFRS has produced its own first eleven top tips:

1. Make sure your caravan is alarmed - working smoke alarms are essential. Heat alarms are ideal for cooking areas, and where gas appliances are in use, Carbon Monoxide (CO) detectors are recommended.
2. Don't smoke or use candles inside tents.
3. Be careful if discarding cigarettes outdoors.
4. If you spot a fire in the countryside, no matter how small, report it via 999. Some fires are lit deliberately. Don't accept it, report it. Contact Police Scotland on 101 or pass information anonymously to Scotland Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.
5. If you are spending time in the countryside follow the Scottish Outdoor Access Code www.outdooraccess-scotland.com
6. Avoid alcohol if you are in charge of a barbecue.
7. Never use petrol or paraffin to light your barbecue; use only recognised lighters or starter fuels on cold coals.
8. Only dispose of ashes from camp fires or barbeques when they are cold to the touch. Disposable barbeques should not be put in bins unless they are absolutely cold – coals can burn for hours afterwards.
9. Gas cylinders should be kept outside. Never store petrol, diesel or gas containers under your caravan or inside your home.
10. Avoid entering any stretch of water if you are under the influence or drink or drugs.
11. Never take a portable barbecue - or lit charcoal - into an enclosed space like a tent or caravan.

Please read the SFRS ‘Summer Safety’ leaflet, it should help ensure that you enjoy a fire free summer.”
