

Jane's Gardening Corner

Plants for Winter Displays

Brighten up your home and garden in winter by planting up some colourful displays of plants. For outdoor containers use large pots, as the compost in small pots will freeze in winter. It's a good idea to line the pot with bubble wrap, newspaper, cardboard or an old jumper to provide protection against the cold. Make sure that the compost drains well. Put a layer of crocks, stones or broken polystyrene in the bottom of the pot. Place the pot on gravel or raise the pot up on pot feet, and the water will drain out more easily. Then fill the pot with good quality potting compost and start planting.

For outdoor displays of seasonal colour choose:

For containers

Winter pansies
Wintergreen (Gaultheria)
Hardy Cyclamen Leucothoe
Ornamental cabbage or kale Skimmia
Primulas
Viburnum tinus Small conifers

For indoor displays in winter choose

Poinsettia Indoor Azalea
Indoor Cyclamen Bromelia
African violets (Saintpaulia)
Winter cherry (Solanumpseudocapsicum)
Christmas cactus (Schlumbergera)
Flamingo flower (Anthurium)
Orchids Ivy Ferns

For beds and borders

Spotted laurel (Aucuba) Holly Jasminum nudiflorum Pernettya Viburnum tinus
Callicarpa Hellebore Hebe Euonymu Wintergreen (Gaultheria)
Primulas Leucothoe Heathers Skimmia Conifers
Winterberry (Ilex verticillata) Ivy Bugle (Ajuga) Osmanthus
Evergreen grasses Pyracantha Witch hazel (Hamamelis)
Dogwood (Cornus) Mahonia

Best wishes for Christmas

Jane Bingham

Garden Specialist