

Chairman's Notes

Welcome to The Cove Chronicle, the local newsletter published by Cove and Altens Community Council. The Chronicle is produced and delivered by volunteers to all homes in the Cove and Altens area.

Christmas Concert

By the time you read this, the Cove Community Christmas Concert will have been held on Sunday 2nd December at a new venue, the Thistle Hotel. Following the concert there will have been the usual procession to the Christmas tree, followed by the switching on of the Christmas tree lights by children from Loirston and Charleston Primary Schools with the singing of carols round the tree. Proceeds from the concert will as ever go towards the Community Christmas lights fund.

Christmas Lights fundraising

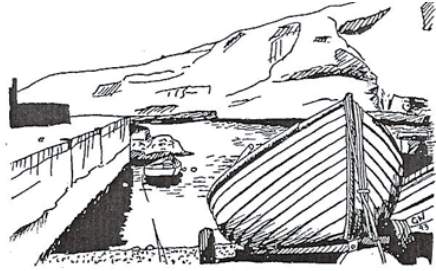

Many thanks to all who have contributed to our fundraising this year. We will run a thank you list in the February Chronicle for donations we have received along with a report and photos of the event.

Christmas Eve services

Make the most of Cove this Christmas. Why not go along and celebrate the real meaning of Christmas at one of the Christmas Eve church services in Cove this year.

Chronicle Deliverers

Thank you so much to all of our deliverers, especially at this time of year, out in all weathers bringing the Chronicle to everyone's door.

Fibre Optic Broadband update

Fibre Optic Broadband is currently being run out throughout much of the Cove area. To find out more about your area upgrade go to <http://www.superfast-openreach.co.uk/where-and-when/>

Road closures

Cove Road has been advertised as being closed from 13th November for 5 weeks between Charleston Road and Cairnbeg Road. Watch out for diversions around Charleston and Lochinch.

Planning

Ground work continues off Wellington Road for the new Scotia and Stewart Milne housing.

Thank you to all of our advertisers, article writers, packers, deliverers, printers and all involved in the production and delivery of The Cove Chronicle.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Neil Stewart, Chair
Cove and Altens Community Council
01224 895318